About Us

Established in 1923, the Theodore Roosevelt Sanctuary and Audubon Center is the nation’s first Audubon songbird sanctuary. Every day we strive to honor the legacy of the “Conservation President” by practicing sound land stewardship and educating children and adults about conservation topics.

Owned and managed by Audubon New York, the 15-acre Sanctuary prides itself in providing high-quality, effective environmental education programs to audiences of all ages.

Using hands-on experiential, and inquiry-based methods, program participants will develop a deeper understanding and conservation for our natural world, gain a sense of stewardship for their local environment, and become informed decision-makers for the future.

OUR MISSION
Connecting people with nature while promoting a sense of environmental stewardship through natural science educational programs.

Spring Sanctuary Adventures

Get outside this spring break! Spend time enjoying the wonders of nature through hands-on activities, games, crafts, and exploration on the Sanctuary’s trails, in our native plant demonstration garden, and at the cove!

We will plant seeds, search for tracks, go on bird walks, net fish at the cove, and so much more!

Register online using the directions provided in the brochure.

- Please pack a bagged lunch, snack, and reusable water bottle.
- Water shoes or an extra pair of sneakers, change of clothes, sunscreen, and towel are required on cove days.
- Be prepared to get dirty and bring a change of clothes for all days you attend.
